Title: Professional Development

Related Policy and Procedures: Procedure 3.1.8.1 Professional Development

Division of Responsibility: Human Resources

The College recognizes that educational quality is dependent upon the availability of qualified and dedicated employees. The essential responsibility for professional growth and development rests with each individual employee; however, the College expects the involvement of all employees in appropriate professional growth activities.

To promote personal and professional growth, the College provides opportunities for all full-time employees to coordinate individual goals with supervisors and develop their own plan for professional development. The College makes available several opportunities designed to help employees meet their goals.

The president may adopt procedures on the best use of college resources to provide quality professional development for employees.
